Merry Christmas to Everyone!

A shocking story

I was shocked to read about the problems the paramedics are having last week. As far as I'm concerned they're the best thing that ever happened to this city and I'd hate to see us lose them. If it's money the city needs I'm sure a quick collection could be taken up. I'd as soon give up all the other (city) services as to give up the paramedics.

Concerned

Did you make a mistake in your story? Are the paramedics costing almost $200,000? That sounds too high to me.

Curious

EDITOR'S NOTE: The figures were correct but they don't tell the whole story. Prior to instituting the paramedic porgram the city for years operated a rescue unit so the loss of the paramedics wouldn't mean a net savings of close to $200,000. And an engine or the rescue unit would still roll on medical calls. What dropping the program could mean is a loss of 3 or 4 fire fighter-paramedic positions (since the rescue unit wouldn't have to operate 24-hours a day), the difference between paramedic-fire fighter and fire fighter pay and some equipment and supply cost savings.

In reading about the shocking shooting in San Francisco it was mentioned that the supervisor couldn't make it on the salary he was paid. I think it was about $8,000. Just out of curiosity, what does a Campbell city councilman make?

Wondering

EDITOR'S NOTE: The pay is $150 a month.

What was that giant crane doing down by the perc ponds last week?

Park Watcher

EDITOR'S NOTE: Putting in pedestrian footbridges as part of Phase II of the Los Gatos Creek Park development. I hoped to get a picture of workmen installing the bridges but had to settle for before and after shots since they installed the second bridge last weekend and I had my camera out on loan.

Nominations open for 'Citizen of the Year' award

NOMINATIONS are now being accepted for the Campbell Chamber of Commerce Citizen of the Year award for 1978. Deadline for submitting names is Friday, December 29 at noon.

The person to be honored at the Annual Recognition Banquet January 26 will be selected by a committee of five previous winners. Chairman of the selections committee is Peggy Pack, last year's recipient.

According to chamber guidelines awards will be conferred for achievement, leadership and service to the community.

Among achievements and service the committee will be looking at are:

- Contributions to community welfare and betterment.
- Evidence of lasting contribution to community welfare.
- Participation in all-around community activities and civic enterprises.
- Evidence of personal and business progress.
- Cooperation with individuals and civic organizations.

Groups or individuals may submit nominations to the committee at 328 E. Campbell ave., 95008. Please include, on a separate sheet, the reasons for the nomination and list of accomplishments.

Campbell high school district

Election petitions filed

By PAT SAFFORD

THE CAMPBELL Union High School District could be holding a special election on May 8 of next year to fill a vacancy on the school board.

Last Thursday afternoon 75 petitions bearing 618 signatures were turned into the county office of education calling for an election. A total of 560 valid signatures of registered voters in the district are needed.

The petition drive began shortly after the appointment of Dorothy Goble to fill the unexpired term of Trustee Craig Smith last month. Smith resigned to accept a scholarship at an Oregon university. Goble, a 12-year veteran of the board who in her last bid for reelection, was appointed by a 3-0 vote of the board after several 2-1 votes and an executive session.

CHUCK BURON, leader of the petition drive was invited to a coffee shop last Thursday morning, the deadline day, to meet with a group of parent leaders.

According to Buron, several PTA leaders and Ray Silva, president of the board of trustees, tried to persuade him not to file the petitions. They cited the cost (an estimated $38,000) of that election.

"At the time I spoke to them I didn't know if I had the right to withdraw the petitions," Buron said last Friday. After much soul searching, Buron says he concluded that balanced against the "eight to 10 people" urging him to withdraw the petitions there were hundreds (of signers) in favor of putting the issue to a vote.

According to John Molchan, administrative assistant to the county registrar of voters his office has until January 13 to validate those signatures. Since the date falls on a Saturday, Molchan said the report should be forwarded to the county office of education on or before Friday, January 12.

IF AT LEAST 560 signatures are valid the school board will then have 120 days to hold an election. That would be May 12, Molchan said, and since elections are held on the second Tuesday of the month, May 8 could be the election day. Trustees could set an earlier date.

Board President Silva made it clear earlier he was opposed to the special election and the estimated $38,000 price tag. (The district has $20,000 of that total budgeted for elections).

Trustees Mac Martinez says the school board has no one to blame but themselves for that additional expense.

"We didn't respond to the will of the people," Martinez said, "and they've called us to account. We forced the cost upon them."

MARTINEZ, ABSENT from the meeting where Goble was appointed because he was part of a college accreditation team, was an earlier critic of the appointment procedure. He said he didn't feel board policy was followed in setting deadlines for applicants (initially) and questioned the fact that some hopefuls were told they would not be considered further before all 14 applications had been submitted.

With the filing of the petition the board seat is now vacant until it is filled by election or the petition fails to be certified.

Dorothy Goble had some sharp comments Monday in the wake of that petition drive.

"It is regrettable that the current law makes it possible for a small number of individuals, in this case 560 of 85,000 registered voters to mandate the expenditure of a sizeable amount of money instead of waiting 6 months for the regular (November) election." (To be successful a special election petition must bear the signatures of registered voters equal to 5 per cent of those who voted in the last school board election).

"ONE CANNOT help but wonder if all these petition signers were correctly informed of all the facts before asking for a special election," Goble added. "Did they realize that this would be another cut from the students' programs on top of those imposed by Proposition 13?"

Petition leader Buron earlier countered the cost criticism with the statement that the district has more than $3 million in reserve funds now. Superintendent Nicholas Montesano said Monday that Buron is speaking of the beginning, not the ending balance.

The Campbell district began this year with a balance of $3.5 million, Montesano said, but the ending balance is estimated at $2.3 million. That estimate is based on the assumption that enrollment figures will remain the same and that the state freeze of salary hikes remains in effect. (District personnel lost their 6 per cent salary hike for this year, part of a 3-year contract).

IF THE PETITION is certified the board will set an election date and candidates will be able to file for that board spot. So far, no one has declared their intention to run but Goble had some comments on possible candidates.

"In the months ahead Campbell voters will be challenged to search out the reasons why candidates are running for positions on their school boards. Are they really interested in serving the young people — or do their self interests influence their decisions to a degree that clouds their ability to serve the needs of our schools in the future?"

Trustees set $10 fee / One more try for after school sports

AFTER SCHOOL sports for junior high students in the Campbell elementary district got a reprieve from school trustees last week.

The board voted to allocate $5,000 out of community service funds to underwrite the cost of the track program and opted to make four other sport programs a partial "pay as you go" proposition.

Earlier, a proposed $20 per student fee got little support from parents. The district also contacted student leaders to see if student body funds might be used to pay for after school sports.

According to a report issued by Assistant Superintendent Ken Meinecke students at Rolling Hills and Campbell Junior High School have already earmarked their funds for trip expense or for school improvements.

"Monroe is not large enough to generate a significant amount of money," Meinecke added.

TRUSTEES SET a $10 fee per student for boy's basketball, girl's soccer, boy's soccer and girl's gymnastics last Thursday night. The balance of costs, not to exceed $19,000, will come from community service funds.

In giving the go-ahead to try to put together a sports program, trustees added the priviso that a minimum number of students must be signed up at each school.

According to Meinecke, that minimum sign-up number is 54 boys and 36 girls at each school for the track program and 20 students at each for the four fee sports.

Schools will hold a one-week sign-up period for boy's basketball and girl's soccer January 8-12, according to Meinecke. If the minimum number of students are not signed up at the end of the week that sport will be dropped from the school schedule, he added.

Campbell and Rolling Hills shouldn't have any problem fielding a track team this spring, but Monroe is another story. With about 300 students, compared to more than twice that number for the other schools, Monroe may find it hard to get 54 boys and 36 girls out for track.

THE BIG "if" in the future of after school sports in the Campbell district is whether parents are willing to pay $10 per sport to help offset costs.

"There is indication that students would participate in the program if it were free," Meinecke reported to trustees.

An election held at Campbell showed 331 students say they would take part in one or more after school sports if there was no fee. A similar straw vote at Rolling Hills showed 322 students interested in a free program.

Paramedic recommendations

Search for fire chief underway

Campbell will begin an immediate search for a new fire chief city councilmen decided Monday night.

The city also plans to notify Cambrian school officials won't pursue plans to lease the vacant Cambrian station for a third engine company.

City Manager Bob Stephens presented an 18-page report Monday outlining possible changes in the fire service operations and improvement of the paramedic program.

Councilmen postponed consideration of most of the proposals, including paramedic service, until a special meeting Tuesday, December 26 at 7:30 p.m.

The bulk of discussion Monday night centered around a change in the minimum qualifications for the post of Fire Chief. That position has been vacant in Campbell since the disability leave of Chief Gene Borden is planned in January.

Under the old guidelines applicants had to hold a B.A. degree in public administration plus an A.A. degree in fire science and have 12 years fire service; five of those years in a chief officer's position.

The new standards call for a B.A. degree with 3 years fire service or an A.A. degree with 5 years of fire service at a rank of captain or above and two years as a company officer (training officer or battalion chief).

The final vote to approve those changes was 3-2 with councilmen Bill Podgorsek and Ralph Doetsch opposed.

Stephens said Tuesday he hopes to have the application period close the first or second week of February and the new chief on duty by mid-March.

Included in the list of recommendations Monday night was a plan to bolster the city's paramedic program which has been hit by a manpower shortage and by a morale problem due to excessive overtime.

Stephens recommends bringing staffing up to the required 9 paramedic-fire fighters and the hiring of a new full time paramedic coordinator.

A case of feline revenge

THE LATEST wacky story making the rounds gives different locations, such as Los Altos, Sunnyvale, etc.

The most recent telling though, in the December 1 issue of the Transit Operations Division Newsbulletin, gives Campbell as the spot so I though I'd share it with you.

If it isn't true . . . it should be.

"LINE 60 riders were on the edge of their seats, but were reluctant to leave the coach at their stops, as they overheard a fellow passenger loudly narrate the following story for their Coach Operator.

"As she was leaving the PruneYard the day before, the narrator said, she had run over a cat that dashed in front of her car. Feeling awful about killing the cat, she was relieved to find a tag with the owner's name and address attached to its collar. Since the owner lived nearby, the narrator decided to contact him. Removing her purchases from a large plastic shopping bag, she placed them in the trunk of her car. She placed the cat in the shopping bag and put it in the back seat with the windows down, and then proceeded to the owner's house to explain what had happened.

"The owner, a very understanding gentleman, assured her that the cat was always playing in the street and refused to stay close to home. Still feeling guilty, the narrator insisted on taking the remains to the humane society for disposal.

"Shaken by the entire incident, she decided to stop enroute at a bar high atop one of the PruneYard Towers. Sipping her drink, she glanced down at her car in the parking lot and noticed a woman nearby acting strangely. She was shocked when the woman suddenly reached through the open car window and seized the shopping bag. 'Ah,' the narrator thought, 'that saves me the trip to the humane society.'

"To her amazement, the thief appeared in the bar a few minutes later still clutching the shopping bag. As the narrator watched from the corner of her eye, the thief ordered a drink. After the waitress had departed, the thief glanced around nervously to be sure no one was looking. Then, opening the shopping bag she peered inside expectantly. With a gasp, she collapsed on the floor.

"The waitress phoned for help. Paramedics arrived and carefully laid the thief on a stretcher. Without checking its content, they retrieved the shopping bag she had dropped as she fainted.

Our readers write

An 'overactive imagination'

EDITOR:

I am writing to rebut the inaccurate, incomplete, and falsely accusatory letter authored by Vic Monia, president of the West Valley Taxpayers and Environmental Association, regarding management of Community Service classes in the West Valley College District.

I am disappointed that Mr. Monia is apparently more interested in promulgating half-truths than establishing whole truths, which he could have done by merely calling my office or reading district board minutes.

Mr. Monia asserts (1) that increased fees for non-credit classes are unjustified, (2) that instructor salaries were cut arbitrarily, (3) that Community Service funds affect the state's "50 Per Cent Rule" (that 50 per cent of a school's operating budget must be spent on teacher salaries), and (4) that there has been an actual or implied threat against teachers who complain about their salaries to the Board.

Our fees were increased when we lost all state support for student attendance in non-credit classes after passage of Proposition 13. Prior to passage, we were actually prohibited from charging fees for state supported classes except for materials. The only classes still eligible for this support are those for handicapped adults, a few of which we are still offering. Our class fees are now designed to cover the cost of instructor's salaries, brochure printing and postage, class materials, and facility rental.

Both the new salary rates for instructors (based on productivity), and the new fees for courses this fall were approved by the Board on July 6 and September 7, 1978. The Board also approved a budget for community services which called for elimination of one staff member and reduction in the work year by one month for more than half the remaining full time, non-teaching staff in Community Services.

Community Services funds, specifically earmarked for expenditures other than regular instruction do not, by law, figure into the state's "50 per cent law."

Mr. Monia's last assertion that the "climate surrounding the management of part time instructors" is threatening to freedom of speech, is a hodge podge of an over active imagination.

Our budget and our savings to the taxpayers are an open record, and I am not only willing, but proud to share it with anyone truly interested.

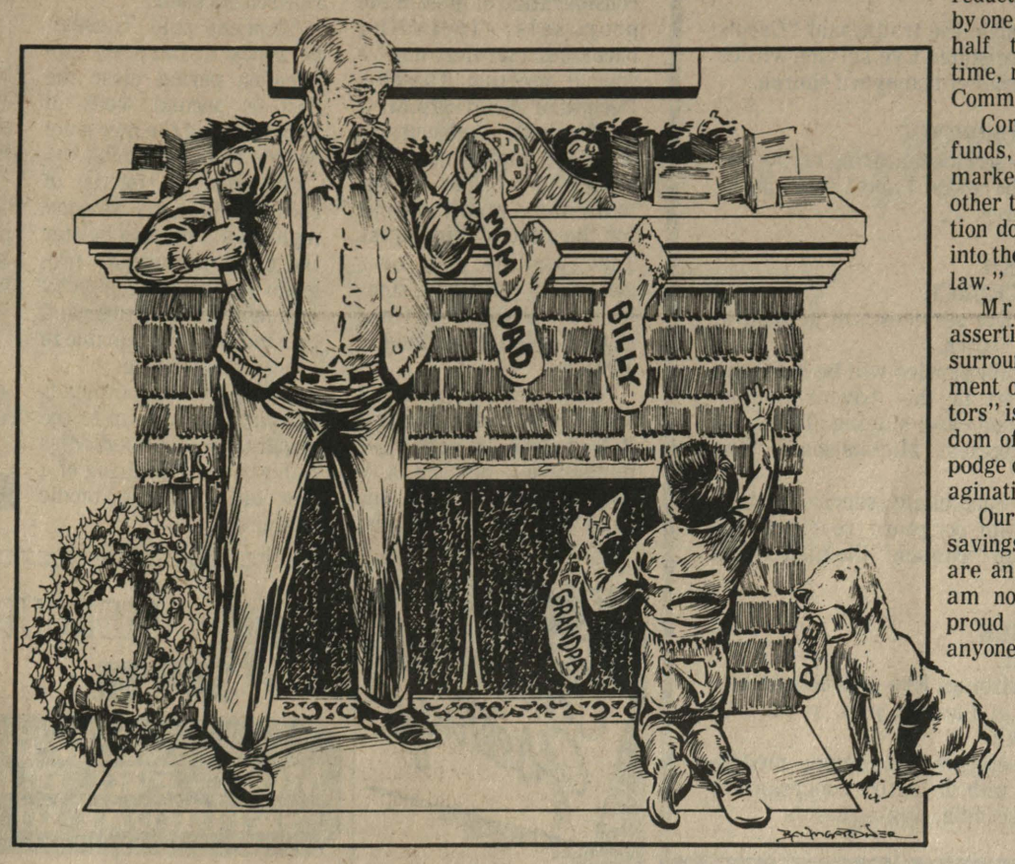
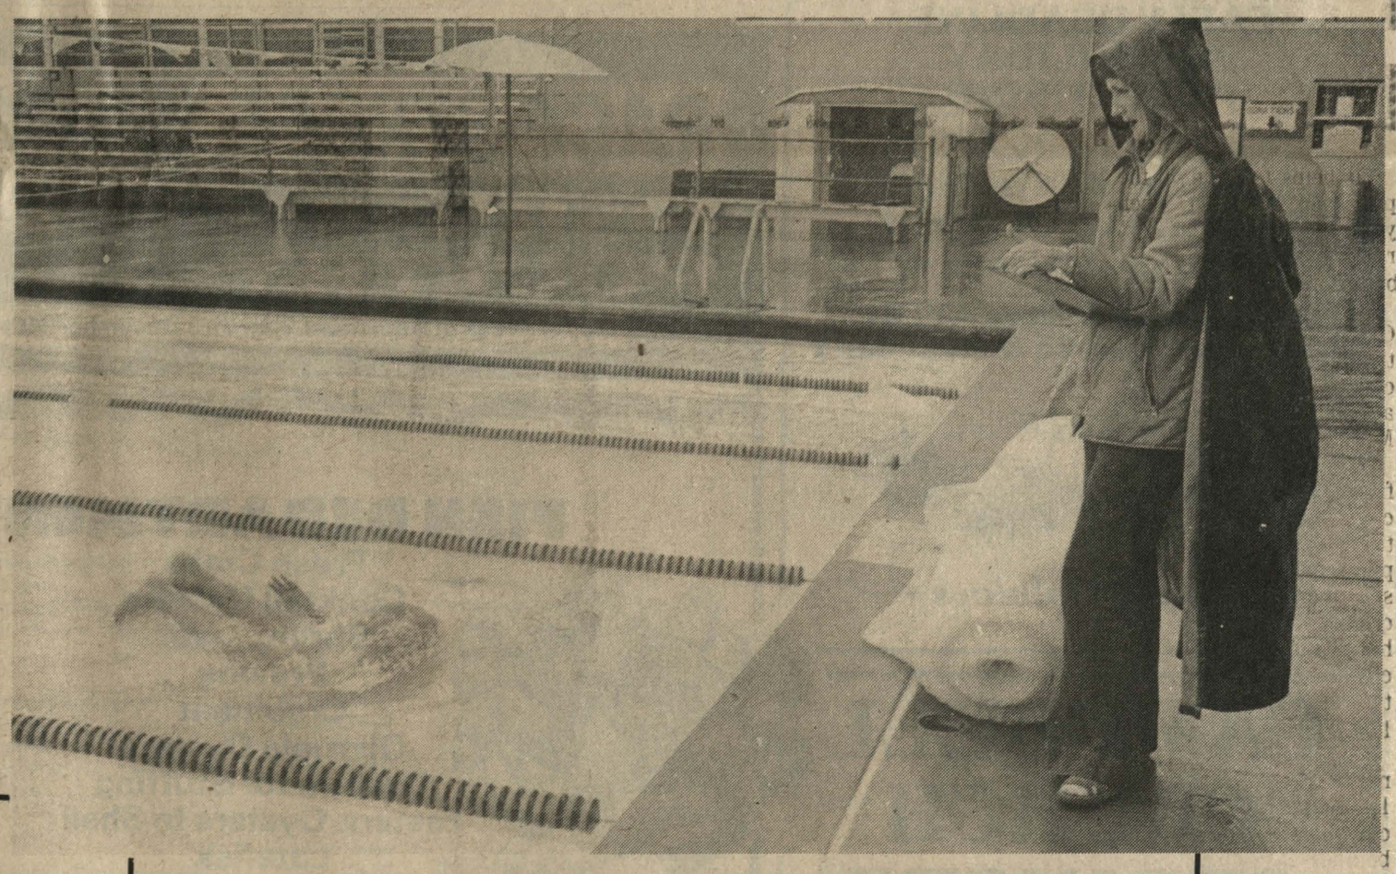
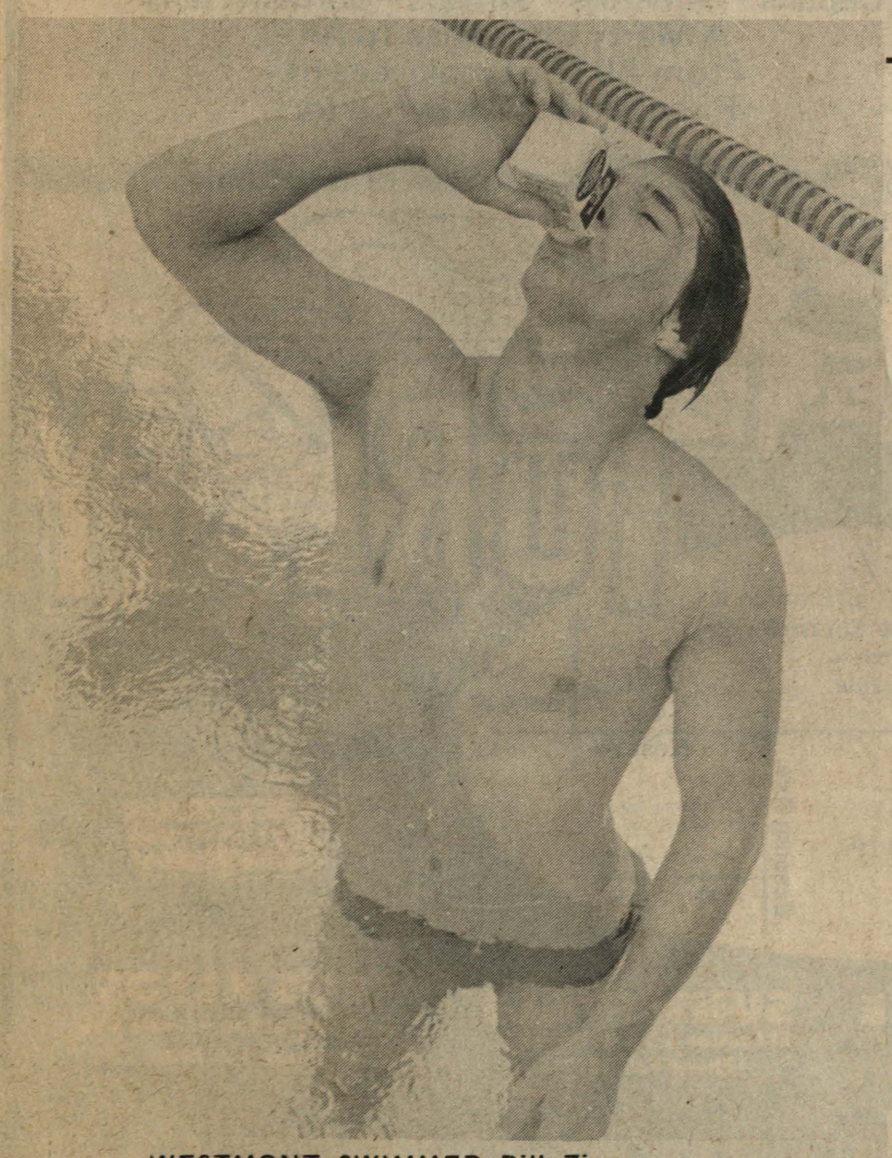
Coordinator of Community College District



World record bid by locals

Westmont swimmers go for 21,120 laps





WESTMONT SWIMMER Bill Zirzow gets a snack after finishing one of his two-hour marathon swim sessions. The Westmont High School cheerleaders visited the pool shortly after midnight the second night to give a cheer. "Sink, sink, Bill, sink," Zirzow says they chanted. The girl squad took to the water Monday morning to try to set a marathon swim record of their own — 125 miles in three days.

NEITHER RAIN nor freezing temperatures kept members of the Westmont Aquatics team from shooting for a new world record in marathon swimming last weekend. Above, Hazel Horst helps count laps. By Wednesday at 11 a.m. the six swimmers expected to cut the old record of 300 miles in nine days in half. Three hundred miles equals 21,120 laps.

GETTING IN A game of "Obsession" between swimming stints at the Westmont High School pool last weekend were, from left, Jeff Holshevnikoff and Chris Soule. The six youths maintained a two hours in the water, 10 hours off schedule over the weekend in an attempt to get a spot in the Guiness Book of World Records. Their original goal was to beat the old 300-mile record of nine days set in England to six days. But, with the six maintaining a pace of 400 laps per shift, Coach Bill Zirzow expected them to complete the fete in four and a half days.

Middle school okayed

Four schools will be closed in Moreland school district

FOUR MORELAND district schools will be closed next year, including two in the Campbell area, and a fifth will be closed in the 1979-80 school year.

Trustees adopted the long range plan for the district at their December 12 meeting after months of study and public hearings held throughout the district.

Tagged for closing are Coventry, Bucknall, Amber Drive and Brookview schools. The board also voted to reduce the Anderson-Phelan school complex to one site in September of 1980 but which site will be retained will be decided in December of 1979.

District officials, who have had to tackle one of the sharpest declines in school enrollment in the last 10 years, also voted to create two middle schools to serve grades 6, 7 and 8 beginning next fall. Castro and Rogers will be the two middle schools.

Enrollment in the once rural district has dropped from its peak of 9,712 youngsters in 1968 to 4,906 this year. That decline will continue through 1983, according to enrollment projections, when an estimated 2,818 students will be attending Moreland schools.

ALONG WITH the decision to close four schools the board also ratified Superintendent Richard Davis' recommendations for busing and crossing guard help.

Those recommendations were:

• Latimer School to remain open to serve the combined Coventry-Latimer attendance area. That a crossing guard be retained at Latimer and San Tomas Aquino road and that the district work with the City of Campbell to improve pathways for students along Latimer avenue. Students living south of Campbell avenue will be bused to Latimer along with those living on Darryl drive and easterly to San Tomas Creek. If bus space is available busing will be provided for those on Charmain drive south to Campbell avenue in 1979.

• Baker School to remain open to serve the combined Baker-Bucknall attendance area. That the district request a crossing guard for the Bucknall-San Tomas Aquino road intersection and that students living on Valerie, Keith, Eva, Twyla, Sadie, Lemoyne and Acapulco drive be transported to Baker. Those living on Rincon, east of San Tomas Aquino, would be bused in 1979 if bus space is available.

• COUNTRY LAND School to remain open to serve the combined Brookview-Country Lane attendance area and that all Brookview students be transported to Country Lane.

• Payne School to remain open to serve the Amber-Payne area and that all Amber area students K-8 be bused across the San Tomas Expressway. Which middle school Amber area students will attend will be determined in early 1979 after meetings with parents and district staff. A first meeting is set for January 9.

With the new middle schools next fall, enrollment in grades 6-8 will total 1,632 while enrollment for the K-5 schools will be about 2,710.

Carlino property sold for senior complex

AT 5 P.M. MONDAY afternoon the county housing authority reached agreement with the owners of property adjacent to John D. Morgan Park to sell the 4-plus acre site for a senior citizen housing complex.

John Burns, executive director of the housing authority, reported that agreement to Campbell city councilmen Monday night.

"By this time next year we should be able to break ground," Burns reported, with the complex completed by mid-1980.

He asked for a study session with councilmen as soon as possible to help the authority in plans for the building design. Burns noted that the one year period the federal government gave the county agency to come up with "approvable plans" was up last September.

"We're considerably behind schedule already," Burns noted.

Councilmen set Wednesday, January 3, as the date for a study session with Burns and his project architect but added the proviso that representatives of the city commissions also be included in the discussion.

THREE CITY advisory commissions have gone on record in opposition to locating the low-income senior citizen housing complex at that site. Unanimous recommendations against the proposal have come from the parks and recreation, civic improvement and youth advisory commissions. All voted to voice opposition to the parkside location.

Burns explained Monday night that the location was considered a real asset by the housing authority and that the problem of limited parking for John D. Morgan Park might be lessened by an agreement between the city and the housing authority to allow use of part of that site.

BURNS ALSO noted that the chances were "from slim to zero" of finding other available bare land to develop a 200-unit complex in Campbell.

While final plans for the complex haven't been made, Burns said the housing authority is looking at building three moderate-rise buildings on the property instead of one high rise building.

riders. But that land belongs to Southern Pacific who has repeatedly refused to grant the district easement rights for a bench.

ACCORDING TO Keith Manley, assistant civil engineer, the transit district will be moving the stop to Hacienda avenue, west of Winchester within the next 2 to 3 weeks.

Also, Manley noted, the city plans to work with the district to see about installing a second bus stop in the Dell-Hacienda avenue area to accommodate workers in that industrial area who are bus commuters.

Action on the request for an additional stop may take several months, Manley added.

RIDERS WAITING for transit buses won't have to sit on the railroad tracks or stand in the mud while they wait on Winchester boulevard, north of hacienda much longer. The transit district is moving the bus stop.

At the December 11 city council meeting the front page photo in the PRESS two weeks ago showing a man sitting on the tracks waiting for a bus was discussed.

Councilmen voted to have Mayor Dean Chamberlin send a letter to the district expressing the council's concern and asking that the problem be remedied.

Earlier, a transit spokesman said they would install a bench at that bus stop to accommodate

Project is the pits... barbeque that is

It helps to have all the pull you can get when you're moving around 2-ton rocks to make a giant barbeque pit.

The Campbell Rotary Club found that out when they set out to have a pit constructed near the Budd avenue entrance to John D. Morgan park.

The first "pull" came from Rotarian Jack Lucas, chief mining engineer for the Kaiser-Permanente plant in Cupertino. Lucas selected the rocks from the quarry and arranged to have them loaded onto a city dump truck using a two and a half story high loader.

When the huge rocks reached Campbell a skip loader was manned by city crews to "pull" the boulders into position.

For the past several weekends Rotary club members have been applying mortar and putting in fire brick.

The Rotary project ties in with city plans to install eight additional tables and benches nearby.

If you're at Morgan Park some sunny Saturday and see the men working with their trowels, don't ask them what they're doing. Rotarians have a ready answer for the young audience of side walk superintendents they've attracted so far.

"We say we're building the Rock of Gibralter," says Lee Hurd, community services chairman.

CAMPBELL Rotary Club project for this year is the big stone barbecue pit being readied at John D. Morgan Park. Shown with one of the huge limestone boulders are, from left, Lee Hurd, community services chairman and Bill Beck, vice president. Not pictured is project chairman Jim Morelan. Idea for the project came after one of the annual softball tourneys between Rotarians and the Campbell Kiwanis Club. Because the portable barbecue pits at the park now are so small the groups couldn't get together after the game for a cook-out. This summer the two groups plan a softball game and barbecue.

Olga

Santa knows you've done your best, babe

Dec. 23 through Dec. 29

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You've tried so hard to be a good little ram during this past year, Ari, and Santa knows — so does Olga. Now this week you get your just reward. For it is written — in the stars and in this column. So there.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20): Your friendly neighborhood Santa plans to call, Taurus, so be prepared. Along with cookies and milk, leave a cold six-pack in full view. What you get under the tree will more than tickle your tinsel. Week ends with a squeal.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): One at a distance plays role in drama which unfolds. Past promise must be kept, Gem, in order to insure tranquility on home-front. As week winds down, watch diet and cut down on sweets — especially forbidden fruit.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Accept gift which is offered of rather battered, hand-me-down heart. Lots of good loving is still possible, Moonbaby, as emotional week ends on peaceful note.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): It's an all-the-love-you-can-handle week ahead, Leo. Your eyes and spirit can outshine holiday lights. Festive week ends with a promise.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Assemble wassail ingredients, Virgo and invite friends and lovers. Gift-wrap yourself in bright holiday mood. Before week slips away be sure to relax with a little fa-la-la-la-la-ing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Pull in the reins, Libra, or you'll soon be mistaken for Rudolph. Party plans should not include booze before breakfast. The ancient Greeks said it best: All things in moderation, nothing to excess. End of sermon.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Fantasy tiptoes into your private garden. Scarecrow you have erected will not deter this prowler, Scorp. Before last day, fantasy turns to fact amid holiday lights. Lucky Scorp!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): One with lots of personal magnetism makes bold move and you are forced to make decision. "Playing the field" takes on new meaning. Once personal problem is ironed out, Saj, you get your bearings.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your sensitive antennae due to pick up a new channel. Picture may be fuzzy at first, Cap, but once you adjust horizontal hold, everything falls into focus. You click.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): When Santa marches in the door, gloom flies out the window. You get chance to make new start. Loved one reveals long-kept secret as week jingles to a noisy close. You glow.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): You are suddenly aware of the many changes which have occurred in the past year, Pisces, but you also know that what is most important remains constant. Your winter heart warms.

'Lord of the Rings'- the bust of the year

"Lord of the Rings" is constructed with a less than innovative animation process. The entire film was first shot in black and white with living actors. Each frame of the film was then traced onto special paper by an army of two hundred artists. The frames were colored and shaded by hand. The process — known as rotoscoping — was developed as early as 1921 and was used in some of the sequences for Walt Disney's "Snow White." Ralph Bakshi also used the process in his less than successful film, "Wizards." Indeed, anyone who sat through that animated production will find the battle scenes of "Lord of the Rings" uncannily repetitive.

SOME OF Bakshi's creations are really quite fanciful — almost charming. The Hobbits have a Disneyesque flavor to them and appear to have been lifted from some earlier Hollywood production and transmogrified into Bakshi characters. The evil Orcs are another story. They appear as shadows of men wearing grotesque Halloween masks. A negative image against a colored background makes the Orcs recognizalbe almost immediately as creations of less than breath-taking film technology rather than of enchanting imaginative genius.

It is impossible to identify with any of the characters of "Lord of the Rings." Even children will be bored with this production. There is also enough slashing violence in the final battle scenes to entice sensitive parents to guide their youngsters out the theater door before the lilting voice of the narrator announces that what has just been viewed is merely Part One of the story of the Rings.

Life is short and this movie is long. I am going to make it a point to miss Part Two.

Small town ethics don't work in Bay Area

By SLIM INGHAM
Send all mail for this column to Consumers United, P.O. Box 311, Palo Alto, Ca. 94302, or call 494-1858 for consumer advice

Since we have been in California we have been unable to live within our income. Every time we have to spend any money, we get taken. In the small town that we used to live in, near Omaha none of these business practices would have been acceptable.

We bought carpeting and they substituted a lower quality pad and carpet when installing it. The used car we bought had a 90 day unconditional warranty (we were told) and when the engine destructed after 4 days of use we were told that "you have no warranty, we don't want to see or hear from you again." Our new furniture was promised in "less than three weeks" and we finally took delivery four months later. The late delivery was accompanied by a bill that was 25% more than we had agreed to pay and had a $50 delivery charge added on, also. We called the store owner to protest and were told that if we didn't accept the furniture that we would stand to lose our $300 deposit.

We love this state but after these things have happened we've almost decided that we can't afford to live here. Is it possible for us out of staters to recover some of our money?

L.M. Bohannon, Sunnyvale.

This letter was received slightly over two months ago by Consumers United. Since then, we have had the carpet company install the grade and quality of carpet as shown on the contract of sale. These circumstances were an honest error on the part of the carpet company and they could prove it with their paper work. The difference in price in the two grades of carpet was $480 and the Bohannons were offered (and accepted) $150 off their contract price for their caused inconvenience.

The used car they bought had an altered odometer (as the Sacramento Department of Motor Vehicles showed) and the dealer, so as to avoid prosecution, took the car back paid the Bohannons $875 for their engine repair expenses and coughed the mandatory $1500 penalty for altering an odometer. This was accomplished with some reluctance on the part of the dealer and through the use of one of the Consumers United's lawyers.

The only help we could give with the furniture was to recover 20% of the 25% overcharge and the unfairly charged $50 delivery that wasn't specified on the sales contract.

The Bohannons never experienced these problems in their small town because a business, run in an unethical fashion, can't exist in the limited customer environment of the small town. Word of mouth dissatisfaction soon eliminates the problem — no more customers, no more business. In the densely populated area of the Midpeninsula we have an almost unending supply of fresh customers and the unethical business may continue beyond reasonable limits.

We are considering the purchase of an "air ionizer" that promises to "charge your environment with positive ions that will lead to a changed and happier life." The device is quiet, uses little electrical energy and also claims to maintain a balanced ion atmosphere. Your opinion, please.

The self delusion syndrome coupled with masses of pseudo scientific advertising for these devices has led many to feel "better" when using the gadget. We advise that you keep your $89.50 in your pocket and not spend it on the intangible, unproven and unreal.

Holiday musical fantasy

CALIFORNIA Actors Theatre has a treat in store for theatre-goers with their holiday musical fantasy, Three Penny Christmas, directed by Ken Barton.

Subtitled The Legend of Nick the Saint, the story follows the antics of Nick and his gang of lovable thieves as they carouse through the streets of turn-of-the-century London trying to bring joy to the poor at Christmas time.

In the tradition of Robin Hood, there is action, suspense, and good humor as Nick plots to "borrow" from the rich to help the poor have a happy holiday. Of course, Scotland Yard is involved and a secret agent of the most unlikely sort is dispatched to infiltrate the thieves' secret lair.

Nick's plan is to dress up his gang like Santa Clauses, slide down the chimneys of the rich and with the booty, open up a three penny store where the poor can do their Christmas shopping — with all items a mere three pennies.

Three Penny Christmas opens December 16, at 1:30 p.m. at the Old Town Theatre in Los Gatos.

Holidays filled with tradition

By LESLIE RAFFENSPERGER

WHEN the leaves start falling and the temperature drops, people gather in their homes to enjoy each others company and celebrate the winter holidays with the traditions that accompany them.

Traditions vary religion to religion, nationality to nationality and even family to family.

One tradition that seems to have caught on with a majority of Americans is the Christmas tree.

THE CHRISTMAS tree is a German custom supposedly beginning in the eighth century when St. Boniface dedicated a fir tree to the Holy Child as a counter to the sacred oak of Odin.

There is also a legend that insists Martin Luther cut the first Christmas tree and decorated it with candles to imitate the starry skies of Bethlehem that Holy Night. Luther, reportedly, put a creche with the figures of Mary, Joseph, Jesus and the animals under it.

GERMAN immigrants, after the American Revolution, introduced the custom to America. In 1856 President Franklin Pierce decorated a tree for the White House.

Trees didn't come into widespread use in American homes until after World War I. Now every house, public building and shopping center has one or more.

ADVENT

Advent is described as a four-week penitential season. It is from the Sunday nearest Nov. 30 until Christmas Day. Many Christians through their churches or in their homes prepare Advent wreaths in which are included four candles. Each Sunday of Advent a candle is lit, songs sung and prayers repeated.

Also common to the Advent season are Advent calendars. Each day of the season, a different window on the calendar is lifted revealing a prayer or picture.

LAS POSADAS

Las Posadas is a Mexican celebration, originally lasting nine days in which a couple, representing Mary and Joseph go to houses in a village or a neighborhood seeking shelter for the night.

Our Lady of Guadalupe Church at 2020 E. San Antonio in San Jose will be celebrating Las Posadas Dec. 18 through the 22 at 7 p.m. After the symbolic journey, the children will break piñatas and there will be chocolate for the adults.

EPIPHANY

Epiphany, also called Twelfth Night or Little Christmas, is a prime Christian feast. It is celebrated Jan. 6, twelve days after Christmas. It commemorates the baptism of Jesus, the visit of the Wise Men to Bethlehem and the miracle of Cana.

St. Joseph's Episcopal Church in Milpitas and St. Mark's Episcopal of Santa Clara will be getting together this year to celebrate Epiphany on Sunday, Jan. 7. Early in the evening, about 5 p.m., the church members will take the Christmas tree down. A tape of Amahl and the Night Visitors will be played while slides made by the Sunday school children will be shown.

The program is for the whole family. Refreshments will be served after the program. St. Joseph's is located at 926 Evans Rd. in Milpitas.

Many churches celebrate Epiphany during regular Sunday services.

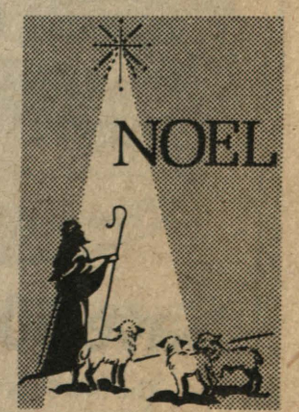
SANTA LUCIA FESITVAL

The festival of Santa Lucia is from an old Swedish legend concerning the oldest daughter of a family. The girl rises early and brings saffron rolls and coffee to the other members of the family with a crown of candles in her hair.

Immanuel Lutheran Church on Moorpark Ave. in San Jose celebrates the festival every year on the Sunday closest to Santa Lucia (Dec. 13). The local celebration took place on Sunday, Dec. 10 this year.

A queen is chosen from the high school age girls. The queen, six attendants and two star girls enter in a processional from the sanctuary of the church. The queen stands on the stage and tells of the Santa Lucia legend.

At Immanuel Lutheran the choir gives a concert and the Christmas prophecy is given.



HANUKKAH

Hanukkah is the Festival of Lights, a celebration of freedom, a worthwhile celebration of peace and happiness. The holiday is eight days long. This year it begins the evening of Dec. 24.

It has become Americanized. Being in the winter it has become identified with Christmas and so most Jewish children receive gifts during Hanukkah.

The Jewish Community Center featured a Hanukkah party last Sunday with the Yiddish folk group Klez Morim. They also dedicated their new building.

Strong winds that have whipped through Campbell in recent weeks almost put a permanent damper on plans by Bucknall School second and third graders to decorate the front windows at Bell Savings and Loan on Campbell avenue. According to Manager Jeanette Soetaert, just 10 minutes before students were to arrive, paint brushes in hand, a strong gust blew out the front window. The manager put in an S.O.S. call and get someone out to fix the window so the youngsters could came back the next day and begin their handiwork.

Business briefs

CHAMBER PROMOTION
Shirley Stanford, former community services receptionist for the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, has been promoted to office manager, according to Ted Rogers, executive vice president.

New to the local chamber office is Pam Bradbury, who will serve as community services receptionist.

KENDRICK NAMED ASSISTANT MANAGER
Mary G. Kendrick has been appointed assistant manager for operations at the Pruneyard branch of the Bank of America.

A 10-year veteran of the banking firm, she formerly served in a similar capacity at the Prospect-Highway office.

She and her husband, Bill, are San Jose residents.

Kotowski heads Campbell Chamber of Commerce

CAMPBELL BUSINESSMAN Mike Kotowski will take over the reins of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce on January 1.

The new chamber president, owner of Vicom Services and a well-known railroad buff, will be officially installed at the annual recognition banquet Saturday, January 28 at Zorba's.

President elect for 1979 is Pete Edwards, manager of the downtown branch of Bank of America.

Phil Olavarri, owner of Kilroy Pest Control, was re-elected treasurer.

Elected to the Board of Directors for three year terms were: Dennis Cobb (Coast to Coast Stores), Homer Hyde (Campbell Water Company), George Berris (attorney), Pat Flannery (Fidelity Federal Savings and Loan) and Gordon Craig (United California Bank).

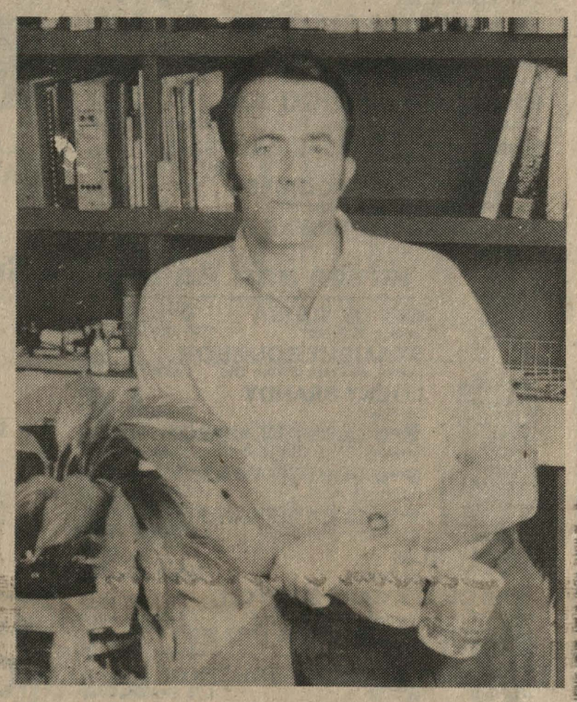
Elected to a one year term was realtor Myron Alexander.

KOTOWSKI'S FIRST official duty was to appoint vice presidents for next year. They include: Alvin Jackson, ambassadors; Gordon Craig, community action; Vern La Mar, business affairs, and Pat Flannery, legislative affairs.

The installation banquet, which features naming the Citizen of the Year for 1978, will also include special recognition for businesses and others who have been members of the chamber for more than 15 years.

Providing entertainment that night will be the championship barber shop quartet, The Storm Door and Whale Oil Company. This group was the 1976 western division champions for the Society for the Preservation of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America.

Dinner chairman is Bobbie Luoto.



NEW Campbell Chamber of Commerce President Mike Kotowski.

Wine—the gift no one can refuse

By MARY LESTER

ONE OF the easiest ways to shop for gifts is to buy wine. The time consumed can take just about as long as you want to browse and ask a few questions of the wine merchant. The amount spent can be as little as $1.50 and upward for some $100 or more rarity. The pleasure in giving wine is that it's always happily received because even a non-drinker immediately thinks of someone else to give it to.

Since this is Holiday time, the grog and wine shops are loaded with enough packaging displays of wine products to tempt even a skinflint-type to peel bills from a hidden wallet. Three Yuletides back, there were only a few wineries featuring wooden boxes for wine gifts. Well, they caught on and became so popular that now you don't have to cast your eyes very far in the store to see box after box from winery after winery.

The woods are in varieties like pine, redwood, birch and one that looks like "knotty" pine or "wormwood." Wine in a wooden gift box, though, doesn't sell cheaply. Prices start at about $3.95 per bottle in a box.

One of the most attractive is Mirassou Vineyards' boxes of three and six bottles. The lid is a painting of a vineyard or winery scene that is made for slipping out of the box, hanging as is or framing. A 3-in-a-box goes for about $15.95 and the 6-bottle for $29.95. Sebastiani Vineyards has a pine box for one, two, three or more bottles. The box is plain with just the winery's name on top and the wine inside.

HMR (Hoffman Mountain Ranch Vineyards) from the Santa Lucia mountain range in Paso Robles, has a 3-bottle box on the market with a fine selection of wines. The problem, though, is to find HMR in the stores.

In memoriam

IDA MAE SMITH

Services were held last Wednesday for Ida Mae Smith, 77, who died December 10 after a long illness.

A native of Oklahoma, she was employed as a processer at Hunt's Cannery for 5 years prior to her retirement.

Her home was at 737 Buddlawn way.

Wife of the late Claude R. Smith, she was the mother of Bill Friar and Ray Friar and James Smith, all of Campbell; G.A. Smith and Mrs. Alma Smith, both of San Jose; Sally Erdman of Oklahoma and William Smith of Alabama; sister of James and Leman Cole, both of Colorado and Jack Cole of arizona. Also the late Wesley Cole. She is survived by 16 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

Darling-Fischer Campbell Memorial Chapel handled local arrangements.

Burial was at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

DINING GUIDE

as recommended by Bea René

"A TINY TIM STORY"...

Here's a true story that happened back during Christmas 1975 ... I happened to be an eye witness, & related it as follows in my "Affair to Remember" column in several Peninsula newspapers ... it was read by the Chairman of the Board of Saga Corporation, who turned it over to the editor of "Tempo" — a publication of the Saga Corporation. She called & asked if she could reprint it — & of course, I obliged gladly. And I quote from her article: "VELVET TOUCH" - Sunnyvale, California - "Here's a true Christmas story that will bring a tear to your eye — but it's worth the telling." With that introduction, columnist Bea Rene' began an article about a very special Christmas for one Saga Enterprises Inc. team. The story, which appeared in eight San Francisco Peninsula newspapers, continued: "Seems that hostess Betty Lamica at the Velvet Turtle in Sunnyvale was startled on Christmas Day when the huge doors opened up and in walks this little fellow (about 8-9 years old) — he approached her like a little gentleman and asked, "How much dinner can I buy for a dollar?" ... needless to say, the whole crew was touched.

"Betty, manager Theron Foote, Assistant Manager Tom Johnson and Chef Merlyn Gill sat him down at a nice table and started serving all the turkey and trimmings he could eat. (Seems his parents went out and left him with a dollar for dinner.) I know there are a lot of lonely people in this world, but I never thought I'd see a little lonesome boy who has to go out for Christmas dinner alone — on a dollar!

"My best wishes to these nice people at the VELVET TURTLE, who found their own Tiny Tim and treated him like a king. (P.S. He biked home with his dollar in his pocket and a full stomach!)"

Charlie plays everything from classical, pop, jazz & lilting oriental melodies ... this restaurant formerly was the SAKURA GARDENS, where Charlie was a showstopper for 13 yrs. He is the leader of a Peninsula Banjo Band & a talented Junior Banjo Band (I've heard them, & they're great!) Don't fail to stop by to see your old friend, CHARLIE, who'll also be on hand New Year's Eve to "Ring in the New Year" ... see ya' there!

Historic designation sought / City asks for more time on school plan

THE CITY has asked Campbell elementary district officials for another 90 days to come up with a proposal for acquisition of the old Campbell grammar school property.

The new engineering report which raised the estimate on renovation costs from $900,000 to $1,250,000 plus put a damper on a proposal for the city to purchase the site outright and use it for a neighborhood-senior center.

The Grammar School Task Force has come up with several alternative proposals to help defray some of those costs. One possible approach is for the city to purchase the property and lease the building to a private developer who would be required to set aside part of the space for community use.

Top consideration for the future of the site should be the preservation of the building for its historical significance, Homer Hyde reported to councilmen last week.

"THE ACTUAL USE of the building is of secondary importance to its preservation as a historical resource," the task force concluded.

Monday night city councilmen gave the okay for staff to help prepare an application to have the building considered for the national registry of historic places. Officials also called for a report on the practical results of such a designation on the site with the understanding that the application could be withdrawn in the future.

THE PRESENT two lane eastbound traffic on downtown Campbell avenue would be modified to one meandering lane with diagonal parking if a proposal submitted by merchants is okayed by city officials. At the last city council meeting Vern LaMar, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Task Force '78 Committee, asked the city to underwrite the cost of temporary taping within the downtown loop area. LaMar added that some of the merchants have agreed to purchase some of the street trees to help improve the appearance of the area. Public Works Director Joe Elliott advised the council that the project would take four working days to complete at an estimated cost of $2,500 for signing and materials. The council directed Elliott to draw up plans for the project to be presented at the January 22 meeting.

Crackdown on drunk drivers

CAMPBELL POLICE are on the lookout for drunk drivers during the 19-day "Avoid the 13" campaign which began countywide on December 15.

Their first arrest was made five minutes into the crackdown period, at 12:05 a.m. December 15 and Friday night and early Saturday morning, six drunk driving arrests were made.

As of Tuesday the local tally was one injury accident and 10 arrests.

The intersections of Bascom avenue with Campbell and Hamilton are the most dangerous in the city, says Police Chief Don Burr. Drivers should be most cautious in these areas, Burr added.

The "Avoid the 13" campaign, now in its fourth year, runs from a week before Christmas to the Tuesday after New Year's Day.

"We're going to be out to enforce," Burr declared. "If you drink, we're going to stop you, and there's a good chance you'll go to jail."

THE CAMPBELL police department has added extra officers and overtime hours during the crackdown period.

Burr asked that Campbell residents who see an obviously drunk driver call the police department with the car's description and the direction it is traveling.

"If the car has already driven through Campbell, we can pass the information on to another city," Burr added.

San Jose makes bid for Moreland school

The City of San Jose wants to buy Moreland School to be used for parks and recreation and for a senior citizen housing complex, according to a letter submitted by Mayor Janet Gray Hayes earlier this month.

The city is interested in negotiating a lease for the 7.9 acre site at the corner of Saratoga and Payne avenue for not more than four years. Also the city hopes to purchase the site during that period for $1,250,000 (fair market value) at an interest rate of 7.5 per cent.

Moreland school trustees gave approval "in principle" for that lease-purchase agreement last week.

Of the 7.9 acre site approximately 3 acres would be retained by the city to use for a senior activity center. The remaining 4.4 acres would be sold to a private developer for construction of 150-units of federally assisted senior citizen housing.

"Two large assisted housing developers have expressed an interest in purchasing the property," according to San Jose staffer David Buggini.

At the December 12 meeting Moreland trustees adopted a resolution stating that additional sites or building construction will not be required for the next five years. That determination, to be ratified by the state, is necessary before proceeds from the sale can be used in the district's general fund.

Newsbriefs

ALL THREE WINNERS

Del Mar, Campbell and Westmont high schools came home from the 22nd annual Los Gatos Children's Christmas Parade with winning trophies.

The Del Mar High School marching band took top honors with the sweepstake award while Westmont's band placed second.

Del Mar tall flags took second place with a second also in the majorette category.

The Campbell High School Pirettes drill team brought home a first place trophy while the small flags placed second. Charlie Safford of Campbell also placed second in the drum major category.

DECEMBER SALES TAXES

Campbell has received $269,410.57 as the December distribution of local sales and use taxes.

According to the state board of equalization, a new record has been set statewide for sales and use taxes for the third quarter of 1978. The $292 distributed throughout the state represents a 15 percent increase over December, 1977.

VICTORIAN RENOVATION WINS APPROVAL

Plans to convert part of a residence into offices at 142 N. Central avenue was given first reading at the last meeting of the Campbell City Council.

Applicant Gilbert Dale Corona plans to refurbish the old Victorian home with the first floor to be used for an office and the second floor for a residence.

A second reading and final adoption of the ordinance allowing the change was scheduled for the December 18 meeting.

VIRGINIA AVENUE SIDEWALKS TO BE INSTALLED

Lloyd Newgren was awarded the contract to construct sidewalks on the west side of Virginia avenue, between Hacienda and Steinway, at the December 11 city council meeting.

Newgren's low bid of $15,578.40 was more than $3,000 above the engineer's estimate.

In approving the contract the council authorized spending the additional cost, over the estimate, out of F.A.U. unappropriated funds.

COUNCIL PARKS COMMISSIONERS MEET

Members of the city council and parks and recreation commission will be to discuss Phase III of the John D. Morgan Park project on Monday, January 15.

The study session starts at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall, 75 N. Central ave.

PLAN AHEAD FOR SUMMER

If you plan to reserve a Santa Clara County park next summer for a group picnic you better make the call now.

Reservations are now being taken for the summer, 1979 season and the new fee schedule is in effect. Cost is 20 cents per person.

Call 356-7151 for information or to reserve a park site.

BI-LINGUAL VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

If you speak more than one language and have bookkeeping or accounting ability the Voluntary Action Center is looking for you.

The center is now recruiting bi-lingual volunteers to assist low-income people in filling out income tax returns.

Volunteers complete a 30-hour training workshop and volunteer their services four hours a week.

Call 244-5252 by January 3 if you can help.

Competency exams set

The first competency tests for Campbell High School freshmen and sophomores begin the second week in January, according to counselor Terry Hausner.

The writing portion of the English tests will be given during class time on January 9 and 11 while math testing will be done between 8 and 9:30 a.m. on January 10 and 17.

Under a new state law high school graduates beginning in 1981 must pass competency exams in basic education and in practical skills, such as balancing a check, in order to receive their diploma.

Tests are given twice each year and if a student doesn't pass the first time he can retake the test.

According to Hausner, the tests will not be timed so if a student needs more time (after 9:30 a.m. for example) he can move to the cafeteria to complete the exam.

If a student is absent on the test day, Hausner added, he will have to wait until next fall for the next examination day.

County post for Forsythe

Del Mar High School senior Dave Forsythe, 17, is the newest member of the Santa Clara County Youth Commission.

He was named to the post on the 15-member advisory board last month by Supervisor Rod Diridon.

Forsythe, son of Anne and Richard Forsythe, 1300 E. Campbell ave., is a member of the Campbell Youth Commission, a regional officer for Key Club International and a national merit semi finalist.

John Forsythe

Holiday buyers beware

The jingle you hear may be money going down the drain

By ELIZABETH FERNANDEZ

Christmas may be the season to be jolly but it is also a time to be wary, especially of phony door-to-door solicitors and misleading advertising gimmicks.

"This is the time of year when people are out in droves trying to swindle you," warns Ruth Watson, the vice president of the San Jose office of the Better Business Bureau (BBB). "The most important thing is to know who you're giving your money to," she says.

The Bureau has some advice for consumers to help get them through the conning season with wallets intact.

If broached by a salesman at home, find out the name of his company, its location, and where the money is going. Particularly if the charity is unfamiliar, call the BBB for a reliability report. One of the staff members at the office on Lincoln Ave. will check the files, possibly obtaining additional information from Better Business firms out of state, then will report back to the caller on the legitimacy of the outfit and its product.

The reports are largely based on the background of the company and its method of handling complaints from the BBB, and do not constitute a value judgment.

One way of discouraging questionable solicitors from operating is a permit which has long been required of door-to-door salesmen by the Public Solicitation Commission of San Jose. "The permit is really an identification disclosure card," explains a staff member for the city commission. "The solicitor is required to present the permit upon request."

In addition to identifying the solicitor, the permit includes information on the group the funds will benefit, why the money is being raised, and specifies how much will be given to charity.

The BBB also has some tips on store merchandise:

• Examine gifts when opened. If damaged or defective, return them immediately.

• Don't try to get cash refunds on gifts that you don't like; it is not the sellers fault. Deal with a store that has a refund policy acceptable to you.

• Markdown items that are returned usually do not receive a full-value refund.

• The term "manufacturer's suggested price" is often deceptive, leading the consumer to believe he's getting a bargain when it is the usual selling price. "List price" is also used sometimes as bait when the merchant is actually selling the item at its true value.

• Avoid holiday perfume rackets that promise high quality perfume in unlabelled bottles for a fraction of the usual cost. The bottles are often fakes, containing scented water.

Watson further advises, "If people investigate before they invest, they aren't as likely to be taken in. If you don't know the merchandise, check with the dealer. If you don't know the dealer, contact the BBB."

The Bureau is open on weekdays from 9 - 4. Inquiries can be made by calling 298-5880.

Change of zone delayed

When members of the San Tomas Task Force schedule their first meeting they'll have one referral from the city council waiting for them; a zone change proposal for 849 S. San Tomas Aquino road.

At the last council session a city initiated zone change (from neighborhood commerical to planned development/medium density residential) was continued for six months to allow the new committee a chance to review it.

man Bill Podgorsek said he would like to see a complete freeze placed on the entire San Tomas area. He added that he feels San Tomas Aquino road will not carry any more traffic.

Committee members charged with studying the San Tomas area, were to be named at the December 18 meeting.

Here's hope for the last minute shopper

Aha! Here it is just a few days before Christmas and you haven't picked out one present yet.

Don't despair, there are presents galore for the last minute shopper.

Here's a list of ideas we've compiled for the eleventh hour Santa, designed to keep you out of the crowds of other last minute shoppers.

For friends back home

1. Andersen's soups. Cans of soup from this famous Buellton restaurant are available at many grocery stores. Wrap up a few and send them off.

2. Ghirardelli chocolate. You can't get this in Cedar Rapids, Iowa or Twin Falls, Idaho. Again, it's something available at a local grocery store.

3. Zoria Farms dried fruit. John Zoria must have late shoppers in mind. At 234 N. Capitol Ave., he sells fruit in boxes ready for mailing. Dried pears, apricots and peaches are available among other things.

4. Mirassou wine. This San Jose vineyard has wine assortments available for mailing. So do a number of others, though only in California. Mirassou's vineyard is off Aborn Road east of White.

5. Sourdough bread. Buy a few loaves and ship. the brown-and-serve kind weather a trip best.

For the cost-conscious budget

1. Faber's Cyclery, 702 S. First St. This is the ultimate in used bicycles and bicycle parts. Need a wheel for a tricycle, or the whole thing, a wagon handle or a pedal cart? You'll find it here.

2. Recycle Bookstore, 98 E. San Fernando. Books don't have to be new to be enjoyed. This is a storehouse for used books, new and old. Lots of Christmas giving at small prices. And if you don't find what you like, try Woodruff and Thrush, another used bookstore right across the street.

3. Arvey Paper, 1381 N. 10th St. Office supplies? A ream of erasable bond typing paper? File folders? You'll find all this sort of stuff at Arvey, frequently at prices lower than elsewhere.

4. Fresh fruit. Comice pears, artichokes and avocodoes are real prizes if you're in the middle of a snowy Midwest winter.

5. Calendars. Get ready for next year with a present of a calendar. There are more this year than ever, too.

6. Baskin - Robbins certificates. For ice cream aficionados, this could be the ultimate gift. Most fast food chains offer something similar.

Very last-minute gifts

1. A dinner certificate. Make it yourself, pledging dinner at a favorite restaurant.

2. A savings bond.

3. Tickets to a movie or a play.

Merry Christmas

on the hot corner

by dick sparrer

"CITY SIDEWALKS, busy sidewalks, dressed in holiday style; in the air there's a feeling of Christmas. Children laughing, people passing, trading smile after smile; and on every street corner you hear. . . ."

Well, you hear people talking about the football playoffs and the possible trades in Major League baseball; you hear people talking about their most recent tennis match and whether or not the Warriors will do it this year.

You see, "silver bells" aren't real big in this area, even around Christmas time. But sports are big here the year 'round.

It's not that Christmas isn't a big event in the San Jose area — on the contrary, it's quite big. But with the sun shining so bright, warming our afternoons, we don't have to forget our sports — even in December.

And I certainly don't want to forget sports, especially at this special time of year. So I'd like to take this opportunity to send out some Christmas cards to some good "sports," and I'd like to share them with all of you (it saves me a fortune on greeting cards and postage!).

HERE'S A SPECIAL, LITTLE Christmas greeting to the San Francisco 49ers and their general manager, Joe Thomas: 'Tis the season to be jolly, and so, it seems we've heard, that now's the time we all should share a friendly Christmas word; But hard as we might try we can't be friendly to those Niners, Joe Thomas and his friends have transformed "faithful" fans to whiners!

AND HOW ABOUT a greeting for former New York Yankee great Jim Bouton who attempted a pitching comeback last summer with the Atlanta Braves:

Best wishes of the season to a pitcher named Jim Bouton, whose comeback last September had most baseball fans a doubtin'; They thought he was too old and much too

Indians scalp 'Toga in Buchser finals

THE FREMONT Indians made their first appearance ever in the Buchser Invitational basketball tournament a memorable one last week by storming to the tourney title with successive wins over Yerba Buena, Buchser and highly regarded Saratoga.

The Indians overcame a 33 point outburst by Saratoga's hot shooting Randy Arrillaga last Saturday night in the finals to post a surprisingly easy 75-62 triumph and wrap up the tournament crown.

Mickey Guisti offset Arrillaga's dazzling performance by pouring in 24 points for the winners. Sander Markel popped in 16 markers and Mike Banks tallied 12.

Sophomore Marty Abate was the only other Falcon in double figures, finishing the night with 12 points.

Giusti and Banks were both named to the all-tournament squad along with Arrillaga and Abate. Rounding out the elite six-man unit were Mitty's Dwayne Warner and Los Gatos' Greg Kolte.

In other last night action, Mitty destroyed host Buchser 71-49 for third place honors; Yerba Buena romped to the consolation crown with a 76-60 triumph over Prospect and Wilcox nudged Los Gatos 52-48 for seventh place.

THE MONARCHS, who had their tournament title hopes ended a night earlier by Saratoga, pulled out to a 32-16 halftime lead against Buchser and then coasted the rest of the way to capture the tourney's third place trophy.

Warner, the Monarchs' 6'8" center, pumped in a game high 24 points to spark the Mitty frolic. Albert Gulla and Todd Tamberg both chipped in with 12 points and Dedrick Brooks canned 10.

Dave Chamberlain paced the Bruin attack with 18 points; Dan Carney added eight markers.

Larry Pitre drilled in 21 points and Richard Brooks tossed in 20 to spur the Warriors to their consolation championship victory over Prospect.

Trailing 33-26 at the half, the Warriors singed the nets for 25 points in both the third and fourth quarters to win going away.

Leonard Robinson popped in 11 points for the Warriors.

Tim Fleury captured high game honors with 22 points in a losing effort for Prospect. Tripp Mitchell chipped in with 12 points for the Panthers.

IN THE BATTLE to avoid last place, Wilcox built a comfortable 12 point halftime lead and then withstood a late Los Gatos rally to finish seventh.

Tim Makela spearheaded Wilcox's attack with a 22 point outburst while Phil Storment contributed 10 points.

Kolte and Drew Beveridge both canned 11 points for Los Gatos.

Fremont and Saratoga had earned berths in the finals a night earlier with wins over Buchser and Mitty, respectively.

The Indians, after a slow start, had little trouble getting past Buchser 66-51, thanks to a balanced scoring attack that featured four players in double figures.

Giusti and John Prunty led the Fremont offense with 16 and 15 points, respectively. Banks chipped in with 12; Markel added 10 and Tim Giusti sank nine.

The Bruins were led by Joe Skurja, who poured in a game high 22 points. Mike Paysek dropped in 10.

Saratoga needed three players with 20 or more points to overcome an inspired performance by Warner and his Mitty teammates.

Warner pumped in a tournament high 37 points but it wasn't quite enough as the Falcons held on to post an 86-84 triumph.

Arrillaga, who was the tournament's leading scorer with 91 points (nine short of his own tournament record), bombed in 29 points. Abate tallied 25 and Peter Smith added 20.

SUPPORTING WARNER for the Monarchs were Brooks and Tamberg, who meshed 18 and 15 points, respectively.

In other second round battles, Prospect dumped Wilcox 55-47 and Yerba Buena toppled Los Gatos 71-63.

Fleury netted 21 points and Steve Foldan canned 20 to spearhead Prospect's win. Makela dumped in 20 points and Storment had 10 for the Warriors.

Pitre sank 17 points; Brooks popped in 15 and Blakely meshed 14 to lead Yerba Buena to its win. Kolte had a big night for the Wildcats, pouring in 27 points. Beveridge chipped in with 12.

Fremont whipped Yerba Buena 56-48; Buchser stopped Los Gatos 76-69; Saratoga humbled Prospect 98-74 and Mitty crushed Wilcox 69-43 in first round action.

Prunty netted 15 points; M. Giusti canned 12 and Banks added 10 to spark the Fremont win.

Blackford cops title at Blossom Valley

BLACKFORD high school, which hasn't had a powerful basketball team since the days of Dennis Awtry, surprised everyone at the recent Blossom Valley Classic by winning three straight games and the tournament title.

Brothers Tye and Joel Ferdinandsen led the Blackford charge, the pair combining for 53 points in a 71-62 tournament final win over Santa Teresa.

The Saints built up a 61-14 first quarter lead before Blackford outscored Santa Teresa 22-11 in the second period. The game remained even from there on.

The two Ferdinandsen brothers were selected to the all-tourney team with Tye chosen the Most Valuable Player of the tournament.

Santa Teresa was represented on the team by Paul Vanderhey and Mike Furtado. Vanderhey scored 24 points in the tournament final.

Pioneer high school, which finished third with a 60-52 win over Gunderson, landed Chon Searfoss and Brian Christie on the all-tourney team. Searfoss scored 17 and Christie 12 in the final-round win over Gunderson.

Gunderson placed Phil Norman and Doug Campbell on the tournament team, which also included Tim Makela of Wilcox and John Hohu of Oak Grove.

WILCOX won the consolation title with a close 54-53 win over Oak Grove despite a furious last minute rally by the Eagles.

Leading 31-23 at half, Wilcox was outscored 21-15 in the final period and had to hold on for the victory.

Lon O'Leary led the Warrior scoring with 16 points while Makela added 12.

Tournament champion Blackford opened the Blossom Valley Classic with a 54-49 win over Oak Grove in a see-saw battle which saw both teams build up big leads at one time or another.

Blackford led 23-17 at halftime only to find themselves behind 39-28 at the end of three periods. But in the final eight minutes Blackford scored 26 points while Oak Grove could manage only 10 and the Braves walked away with the win.

Joel Ferdinandsen led all scorers with 20 points while brother Tye had 12. Brothers John and Don Hohu led the Oak Grove attack with 13 points apiece.

Gunderson pounded Mt. View in the other opening night game, 62-40. Phil Norman led the scoring with 13 points in a game which was never close.

THE following night Santa Teresa opened the tourney with a 64-50 win over Campbell, jumping to a 20-7 first quarter lead and never looking back.

Paul Vanderhey had 21 points to lead all scorers and Furtado added 12. Brad Brown led the Campbell attack with 16 points.

Pioneer then edged Wilcox 60-59 in the final first round game. The score indicates how close the game was, with Pioneer leading by six after one period but only by two at halftime.

The Mustangs then went up by five after three periods only to be outscored 17-13 in the final quarter.

Searfoss had 16 points to lead the Pioneer attack while Makela had 16 to top Wilcox scorers.

In second round action Blackford toppled Gunderson while Santa Teresa downed Pioneer to set up the championship game. In the loser's bracket Wilcox defeated Campbell 64-54 and Oak Grove pounded Mt. View 61-47.

'Cat girls unbeaten

LOS GATOS continued its dominance in the West Valley Athletic League girls' basketball race, rolling up two more convincing wins last week to take sole possession of first place.

Wednesday the Orange Crush demolished Leigh 77-17 and Friday Los Gatos knocked off previously unbeaten Westmont 58-33.

Westmont is now tied for second place with Del Mar with a 3-1 record while Camden and Campbell are still in the running with a 2-1 mark.

Del Mar beat Prospect 54-41 Friday as Karen Alberts scored 18 points. Blackford got by Branham 33-30 behind the 19-point performance of Karen Koyama. Campbell won its second game of the year by humbling Leigh 64-20.

In games last Wednesday, Westmont tipped Blackford 36-17, Del Mar pounded Branham 66-33 as Alberts again scored 18, and Camden beat Prospect 39-28 behind Jacque Bowman's 16 points.

Sports show

KNBR RADIO (68) features a Sunday Sports Round-up each Sunday evening from 5:45 p.m. to 6 p.m. The show, hosted by Jay Barrington, consists of a 15 minute recap of the weekend sports.

Vikes start strong

IT'S ALWAYS best to take advantage of what you have, so that's what Carl White, basketball coach at West Valley College plans to do this year.

White says the Vikings' "small size is their main weakness," so he will rely on a "strong defense" and a "controlled offense" to carry the team.

Now in his first year as head coach (he was a varsity assistant for four years), White has two returning starters he can count on in Don Herick and Marc Mullenix.

Herick was honorable mention all-league as a guard while Mullenix is a 6-5 forward.

Jay Potts and Stan Kazmierczak, both 6-5 and both from Prospect high school, should play key roles also. Potts, who played on the Viking freshman team in 1977-78, is the starting center, and Kazmierczak, all-Central Coast Section at Prospect, has been starting up front.

Other players seeing action this year include Los Gatos grad P. J. Denevi, Doug Cornfoot, a 6-4 sophomore, and guards John Hoffman and Larry Valenzuela.

Off to a 3-2 start this year, the Vikings finished seventh in the Golden Gate Conference in 1977-78 and 14-14 overall.

WEST Valley finished second in its own tournament Dec. 2, losing to Fullerton City College 79-54 after beating Gavilan and Menlo Colleges the previous two days.

The Vikings defeated Gavilan earlier in the season and lost to Monterey Peninsula. Herick hit for 35 points in the loss, while Kazmierczak has sprakled on the boards, hitting double figures three times.

After participating in the Santa Rosa Tournament Dec. 28-30, the Vikings travel to Oakland to open league play against Laney College Jan. 2.

Ski Reports

VETERAN skier Dave Niles will give ski reports on KNBR radio (68) each Thursday through Sunday at different times throughout the day. Two road condition reports will be given on Sundays.

AIMING FOR TWO — Prospect's John Euenson aims for two points in the Panthers' Buchser Invitational opener against Saratoga. Looking on along with a pair of Saratoga defenders is Prospect's Mark Anderson.

On the hot corner

slow to get a win, but after beatin' San Francisco he wore a satisfyin' grin!

KEEP YOUR FINGERS crossed — the San Francisco Giants just might end up with Rod Carew before the winter's over. So here's a little message just for the hot hitting Twin: Here's a Christmas message with a long, long way to go, to Minnesota for Rod Carew with a yuletide ho, ho, ho; But remember it's a time for more than Christmas cheer, here's wishing Rod Carew a Happy "Giant" New Year!

AND HERE'S A special message for the Oakland Raiders, who will have the Christmas season off for the first time in seven years: For many years the Raiders had to work on Christmas Day, they'd done so well they had to be prepared for play-off play; This year, though, this card goes to their families for good reason, moans will spoil their holidays— wait 'til next season!

HOW ABOUT A special Christmas message to Jim Plunkett, who still ranks as the finest football player this area has ever produced:

Merry Christmas Jim Plunkett, wherever you are, your football career has a red and gold mar; At Lick and at Stanford you were quite a star, and with New England's Pats you went very far; But the Niners decided your days were through, and in the pre-season they gave up on you; with the Raiders you tried to start brand new, but those weeks on the sidelines had to make you blue; We saw you each weekend on the TV screen, but no matter what quarter, your pants were still clean; Our only hope is that a 49er blunder, doesn't put your fine career asunder!

HERE'S A LITTLE greeting of the season directed as those who follow our newspapers for our extensive prep sports coverage:

We cover 46 high schools in the Courier, SCRIBE and POST, the PRESS, Town Crier and the SUNs, we don't mean to boast; But we try for equal coverage, no school's special to our staff; so claims of any favoritism can only make us laugh!

AT SAN JOSE State University, Lynn Stiles is out as the head Spartan football coach and Jack Elway is in. So here's a Christmas greeting to San Jose's new head coach:

A hearty Merry Christmas and a San Jose hi, to the Spartans' Jack Elway, the new football guy; We wish him more luck than the man they shot down, all Stiles could manage was a conference crown!

AND HOW ABOUT those San Jose Tigers:

Here's a Christmas wish that's filled with football good cheer, to the San Jose Tigers who had quite a year; But the Tigers deserve more like a congratulation, 'cause they're the minor league champs of the entire nation!

AND A FINAL word to some who mean so much:

Throughout the year we somehow forget, to thank those people who mean the most; The ones we owe the largest debt, so here's my try at a holiday toast; To Dave Mendonca, my buddy in ink, as the year draws close to its end; Here I give you a holiday wink, to very close and special friend; To Randee and my little boy Mike, who mean so much all year; My wife and my special tyke, I hold them oh so dear; To Fred, Skip and the rest of the crew, who play softball every year; I share something special with all of you, and it isn't just the post game beer; To Judy and Max and Mom and Dad, and their families too; To all of them for the times we've had, and the times brand new; To my in-laws and my uncles and aunts, to my friends both far and near; And to all the readers I'm wishing a chance, for a merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

"Meet the FMC Challenge Gain the FMC Reward"

As a worldwide leader in the production of military track vehicles for a quarter of a century, we can offer challenging work assignments, excellent fringe benefits, compensation and a professional atmosphere to qualified candidates. At our San Jose Ordnance Division, our rapid growth and new vehicle production has brought tremendous professional opportunity. Come and be part of it! The following openings exist for your immediate consideration:

TOOL ENGINEERS

Seeking industrial/manufacturing engineers with heavy automotive/truck or tractor conceptual tool design experience. Also requires experience in: Hydraulics, Pneumatics, Electrical Control Systems, Special Purpose Metal Cutting and Assembly Machines, Cutting Tool Design, Conventional Jig Fixture and Die Design.

SR. MANUFACTURING ENGINEERS

Seeking heavily experienced methods engineers with recent project or supervisory experience in determining manufacturing processes, selecting needed equipment and developing the tooling required for heavy equipment going into production. Experience and practical hands-on knowledge in fabrication, routing, punch press, brake work, heavy close tolerance machining and N/C machining required. Demonstrated ability to suggest product changes to improve producibility necessary. Prefer supervisory experience or aptitude and a B.S. degree.

SR. ASSEMBLY ENGINEERS

Successful candidates will have recent experience in determining processes to be used in mechanical assembly applicable to tracked vehicle production. Knowledge and experience that will enable you to establish assembly, tooling and equipment required. Also the ability to develop improved assembly techniques and end product design changes for producibility. Will have inputs into material flow and handling methods as well as work flow and plant layout. BS Engineering or equivalent preferred.

TOOL DESIGNER

Seeking Tool Designers capable of conceptual design of weld, machining, and assembly fixtures. Require a working knowledge of electrical control systems, pneumatics and hydraulics plus the ability to put together a functional system. Experience required in automotive, truck, or heavy duty assembly.

QUALITY CONTROL ENGINEERS

Assignments will involve writing MIL-Q-9858A program documentation and subsequent implementation in support of vehicle production. Requires recent experience in the preparation of documentation for and implementation of a MIL-Q-9858A quality program for military type tracked vehicles. BS Engineering degree or equivalent desired.

PRICING AND PROPOSALS NEGOTIATOR

Will prepare, review and analyze price proposals utilizing historical and other data provided for submission to an negotiation with both U.S. and foreign government officials. Requires 2-3 years' experience in price analysis and working knowledge of DOD pricing principles. Effective communication skills and degree in Accounting, related field or equivalent is necessary.

ESTIMATE COORDINATOR

Assignment requires a basic understanding of the various department functions, capabilities and contract type, terms plus conditions. In addition, requires thorough knowledge and experience in metal cutting manufacturing processes as related to vehicle manufacturing. Familiarity with accounting practices, estimating procedures, and government procurement regulations desired. Prefer BSME, BSIT, BSIE or equivalent technical degree.

In view of our progressive expansion, we anticipate excellent growth opportunity for technical, professional people. We offer excellent benefits and a challenging work environment. Please send your resume to: K.D. Whelan, Professional Employment, FMC Corporation, San Jose Ordnance Plant, 1125 Coleman Avenue, San Jose, CA 95103.
